The Morth of the meaning of the stalute. In the only part of the bill which gives it its value, the amount for which the note calls is effaced; there is no promise to pey anything; there is no obligation. The "5" pasted on the cerner, while it is intended to deceive, is of no more consequence then the vignette; it is simply a picture. The defendants were discharged.

The real name of Lola Montaz was Maria Do-leres Lorris v Montez. Was she born in Seville, In 1818, in Montrose, in 1820; or in Limerick, in 1824? Was her father a Spanlard ur n creede? No one knows. It has been ascertained that her mother was a croole, and that she was brought in England She visited Paris for the first time in 1810, glvng herself un: for the wife of an officer in the striksh Army, whom she married, and quitted in British Army, whom she married, and quitted in India. She obtained an engagement, as danscase, at the theatre of the Porte by. Martin, and lost this structure in the structure of the cocentricity of deportance that was coted intolerable even in that rement that was voted intolerable even in that relon.
Lola Montez scon obtained admittance to the Maxwell & Co., Mainst, bet, 5th and 6th, Lola Montez scon obtained admittance to the stage of the French Opera, but was hissed on her appearance. In a fit of contemptuous fury at this discrace, che kicked one of her buskins into the parterne, orealing an uprour in that aristocratic have "more enaily imagined than described." The was, of course, probibited from appearing again upon that stage.

In her arms were a crowned lion, a silver felt. In her arms were a crowned hou, a sivel dolphin, and a rose. With her new rank she obtained a pension of 20,000 florins. The Ministers having opposed the exaltation of the favorite, the tabinet was dissolved by the Kinz. The Countess nominaled n new Cebinet, and soon Countess nominaled n new Cebinet, and soon afterward, dissolved it.

The University was divided into two camps; one of these being for the favorite, the other against her. A riot broke out among the students; Lola Muntez hastened without escort to the cens of the tumult, the King hastened after her, offered her bis arm, and ied her away. The monnrch, irritated by this outbreak against the favorite, ordered the University to be closed for n year; on ordered the University to be closed for n year; on which the municipal anthorities waited on the King in a body, and implored him to dismiss that Countess from Court. The King refusel to grant the prayer of the civic fathers, but yielded to the energetic ramonstrances of the House of Peers.

Lot Montez received the royal order to quit Munich; her palace was pillaged, and the King, who, apposities in the crowd, was sorrowfully watching. after continuing the erratic course which made her so prominent in a larger field during her previous life, she wee some months since attarked by a partial paralysis, since which har health has been gradually decaying.
